How to obtain Peace.

Hon. DANIEL S. DICKINSON of New York, in a late published address, thus speaks to those who cry "peace! peace!" with arms in their hands:

"You desire peace! Then lay down your arms and you will have it. It was peace when you took them up, it will be peace when you lay them down. It will be peace when you abandon war and return to your accustomed pursuits. Honorable, enduring, pacific relations, will be found in complete obedience to the provisions of the Constitution, and not in its violation or destruction. The Government is sustained by the people, not for the purpose of coercing States in their domestic policy; not for the purpose of crushing members of the Confederacy because they fail to conform to a Federal standard; not for the purpose of despoiling their people, and least of all, not for the purpose of disturbing, or in any degree interfering with the system of Southern servitude; but for the sole and only purpose of putting down an unholy armed rebellion, which has defied the authority of the Government, and seeks its destruction, and in this their determination is taken with a resolution, compared with which the edicts of the Medes and Persians were yielding and temporary. When the Government of our fathers shall again be recognized; when the Constitution and the laws, to which every citizen owes allegiance, shall be observed and obeyed; then will the armies of the Constitution and the Union disband, by common impulse, in obedience to a unanimous popular will. And should the present or any succeeding Administration attempt to employ the authorities of the Government and people to coerce States, or mould their internal affairs in derogation of the Constitution, the same array of armed forces would again take the field, but it would be to arrest Federal assumption and usurpation, and protect the domestic rights of States."

Eugene Casserly's Address.

EUGENE CASSERLY, in an address to the people of California, says—

"Let not the people be deceived. Peace and the recognition of the "Southern Confederacy" means to-day not only the loss of honor, but every other calamity which may befal the American People.—It is the permanent destruction of the Union; the strongest incentive to secession to the States that remain; the dismembership of the country; the death of all American nationality; the loss of more than half of our sea-coast; the establishment of a foreign power at our doors in the heart of the continent, menacing us along fifteen hundred miles of our frontier and holding the mouths of the Mississippi; the disappearance of the United States from the great powers of the earth; the imprisonment of twenty millions of white people in a narrow selvedge of territory, struggling from Maine to Kansas, shut in with the snow and ice between two jealous and perhaps hostile neighbors North and South. It means for us and our posterity a standing army and Navy for all time; insufferable taxation; the modification or subversions to suit the new order of things. After all this there will be no peace between us. If there is none now, how can there be any then? If in the Union, and under the bonds of the Constitution, we must fight, how shall we be at peace when we are two independent and necessarily jarring governments, with a perpetual conflict of interests intensified by the closeness of the contact all along the line? Let the States of continental Europe answer.—Who, that knows the American people, dares for one moment that any cartany power can pen them up north of the Potomac river and Potomac, or that the hardy millions of the northwest, the nurse of nations, will ever yield to other hands the mouths of their great river, though it should run crimson to the sea?

Civil war is terrible; yet it is the ordeal in which all the nations are tried. Some survive the trial and come out the stronger for it. Those are the great nations of the earth, like France and England. Have we less national life, vigor and courage than they? Or are we to perish in the fires, like some inferior race?

If the country is now to surrender at discretion, we may as well give up entirely. For, everything is gone. There is neither Union nor Constitution for the States which go out to those that remain. Secession and revolution will be the new order of things. Free institutions, government by the will of the majority constitutionally expressed are no more. No election will stand where the defeated party has the force to overthrow it. We are sunk to the Mexican level. The power and the glory, and the very name of America among the nations are departed forever."

It will contain the latest telegraphic news from the East and California, a selection of the best articles appearing in the DAILY OREGONIAN, and the most copious Commercial information published by any paper in the State.

The average amount of reading matter in the WEEKLY OREGONIAN is greater than that published by any other journal in Oregon; and in the particular of Commercial Statistics we aim to make it a most reliable, more especially in regard to that which pertains to Oregon interests.

It will be mailed to order for 12½ cents per copy, or $3 per annum, to any part of the United States or British Columbia.

HENRY L. PITTOCK.

THE LATEST NEWS.

We had yesterday St. Louis dates of August 23d. The effects of Gen. Scott's order not to publish the movements of the army, is seen in the meagerness of the despatches. We learn little of the military movements of the government forces about Washington. It is said that Gen. Banks' column had taken possession of Winchester. Fremont was gathering a large force at St. Louis. The rebel forces in South Western Missouri were, too much cut up to resume offensive operations. Wise has been whipped again in Western Virginia. Kentucky is largely Union, and government has furnished the State with 20,000 minnie rifles. The government is proceeding with stern determination to crush the rebellion.—It can have all the men it wants, and the ease with which it obtained the $150,000,000 loan, shows that it can have all the money it requires.

Missouri and Kentucky.

The last election held in Missouri was for the choice of Delegates to the State Convention. The question of Union and Disunion were discussed all over the State; and the Disunionists did their best to carry the Convention. They failed to do this. The Convention, representing the people, was strong for the Union. A large majority of the people of the State were proved to be for the Union. The Secessionists there, and elsewhere, in defiance of the will of the people, thus expressed, determined, if in their power, to conquer the State, and make it one of the stars to shine in the Constellation of New Dahomey. For this purpose, troops have been called from Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas, and perhaps from other States; and they have gone into Missouri, avowedly to drive out the Union people and give the State to the Secessionists. They have not succeeded very well so far; and we presume their project will fail.

Great efforts have been made by Secessionists to throw Kentucky out of the Union,—against the will of her people. Troops have been organized for that purpose. Every means that infuriated men could resort to have been used to force the State into hostilities against the Union. These have failed. As in Missouri, so in Kentucky, under all the adverse circumstances presented, the people have declared their adherence to the Union.

We regard the movements of the Convention in Missouri, in appointing new State Officers, and the results of the recent elections in Kentucky, as settling the question where these States are to be found in the great contest now disturbing the country. The Government may have trouble in both these States—because both contain adherants of the South,—but the Union sentiments of these States will be sustained.

The expression of public opinion in the States named, must be a heavy blow to the Secession party South. The influence and power of Kentucky will be felt in the future of this civil war.

Judge Catron of Nashville, who delivered a charge to a grand Jury in St. Louis, defining what he considered treason, has been expelled from Tennessee.

Letters from the Nez Perces Country.

No. 5.

LEWISTON, W. T., Aug. 23d, 1861.

From the time of the first mining excitement in regard to this country in February last, there has been a constant apprehension of an Indian outbreak,—among people in the valley, and about Walla Walla. Whether well or ill-founded, I have seen nothing to justify this fear. After being almost continuously for three months over a large part of the Nez Perces Reservation, no hostile sign has been seen, except in the destruction of grass on the trail leading to the Salt Pits. From The Springs—33 miles from Lewiston—to the foot of Bitter Root range—37 miles, the entire country is a blackened waste. The Indians have put out those fires I know because in several instances they admit it. The excuse is that they want the grass to come up this fall, and that burning encourages the growth.

POLITICS OF THE NEZ PERCES.

There are three parties amongst the Nez Perces, representing the various influences of the whites on Indian character. On the Clearwater, and about Lapwai, and Snake River from Lewiston down, the Indians are entirely under the control of the whites. They know and dread their power and it is difficult to imagine any provocation that would cause them to take up arms. This part of the country is particularly under the influence of Lawyer (or Tha-la-hal-quil-mit, as he is called by the Indians. Up in the South Fork country and among those known as the "Mountain Indians," or "Buffalo Indians," there is another shade of opinion. The natives there are friendly to the whites; but they know that any intimacy with them brings degradation and death. They see that the whites are taking their country, and while they do not wish to make it the cause of war or bad feeling, look to the authorities to compensate them for their losses, and find them a territory where they will not be brought in contact with the whites. In short, they are friendly to the whites and want nothing to do with them. This party is represented by the chiefs Joseph, Tip-yu-hel-lun-a-teem-en-in, Big Thunder and others. The next division is the hostile party, led by Tip-yu-hel-len-a-kow-pu—a man of talent and a hearty hater of the whites. His band is situated along Salmon River, and has a vast amount of cattle and horses. This chief is in league with the Snakes, and has been trying to induce the Nez Perces to enter into alliance with that tribe—so far without success. It is possible, that if he could effect a combination of the Mountain Indians and the Snakes that war would follow at once. The most exagerated rumors have prevailed for some time about the doings and intentions of this terrible chief, and frequent alarms have taken place. An instance is worthy of relation:

A BIG SCARE.

About the last of July there was a "big scare" at Elk City. A very large, portly looking, black whiskered individual, mounted and equipped in the most approved fashion, galloped up to the town, at about the hour of 5 o'clock, P. M. Says this fine Pike County gentleman: "Prepare yourselves, boys! The Injuns is coming. The Snakes and Nez Perces, with 'Eagle of the Light,' are over on Red River, and have killed eighty of our men. They are fighting like mad!" So earnest was the herald that his eyes protruded as if they would pop out of his head. After diligent inquiry we found out that a man had heard a heavy and continued discharge of fire-arms on Red River, and supposed there was about eighty shots fired. Upon sending over a messenger it turned out that the miners had been shooting salmon,—a most exciting sport, and one requiring a large expenditure of gun powder. So ended the "big scare."

WHAT THE INDIANS SAY ABOUT THEIR ANNUITIES.

The "dungaree" annuities are a source of dissatisfaction to the Nez Perces. They think that calico will wear out, and besides it is below the quality which they usually buy for themselves. A large part of the tribe refuses to accept the goods, and declare their ability to purchase their own clothing. They think that goods will wear out, the whites will take their grazing lands and they will be reduced to poverty. Their agricultural implements are nearly too heavy, and are nearly a dead loss. They say if the whites will give them a country to themselves, and pay their annuities in tame cattle and horses for the benefit of the tribe, that it would be better for them. Common sense is on their side, and of course it makes no difference to the Government whether they receive their annuities in one substance or another.

(From the St. Louis Democrat.)

Federal Victory in Southwestern Missouri.

If the report which reached this city on yesterday's heralded another brilliant victory of the Federal arms in the southwest, it brought no joy to our hearts. Wholly devoted to the cause of our country, we anxiously labor and pray for its success in the pending war. Nevertheless, we can only mourn over the slaughter of our countrymen. The loss of life, which is reported as immense on both sides, is cause for deep and poignant grief to hundreds and thousands of our people. For one [illegible] of those who fell in battle St. Louis will mourn. Of course we allude to Brigadier General Lyon. He was a man of commanding intellect, of distinguished scientific and literary attainments, and a polished soldier. To no one man in this war does Missouri and the Federal Union owe a larger debt of gratitude than to General Lyon. It was our good fortune that he was ordered to service in the St. Louis Arsenal early in these troubles. He came to St. Louis when the whole force at this post did not exceed, if remembered rightly, three hundred men. Reinforcements were sought, but were not promptly sent. It was with this small garrison that he was to defend the Arsenal and protect the public property here from an overwhelming body of the enemy, then organized and armed in this city, known as the "Constitutional Guards," "Minute Men," and a large portion of another body denominated "Frost's Brigade." And well did he perform his delicate and painful task. Hoy bravely did he carry on his work with his little body of men—who does not remember, they could gain admission to the Arsenal in those days, how his cannon and earthworks were made to cover the assailable points—how his sand bags were distributed to protect his sentries on the rally, and with what desperate resolution he had mined the very buildings over his head, determined in the dernier resort to blow them into atoms, and perhaps, to perish amid their ruins. It was well understood that an assault upon the St. Louis Arsenal, with the forlorn hope that then constituted its little garrison, would be no idle business. The assault was not made. The known sagacity, skill and valor of Captain Lyon deterred the enemy. It was while defending the Arsenal in this way, and dealing with the "Minute Men" and the "Police Commissioners" of St. Louis, who once ordered his patrols inside the Arsenal walls, and placed their sentries over the Arsenal gates, that Captain Lyon became satisfied that the Secessionists of Missouri were fatally bent upon war, and would never yield their purpose until they were utterly prostrated by the power of war. Sooner than others he saw and understood the object of Camp Jackson, and seeing and understanding, did not hesitate to strike in embryo that incipient secession army.

In the short interview which he held with Price and Jackson his acute, discerning mind read all that the public has since read of those persons in documents which have been given to the world. His honor, as a soldier, dear to him as the ruddy drops which visited his heart, was never tarnished. His private reputation was stainless as the snowflake which has not touched the earth. His death was glorious—leading his column against the foe and shouting a charge for his victorious warriors. Not Wolfe—not Montgomery—not Pike—fell more nobly, nor covered his name with a more perishable renown. We cannot forbear to add to this brief sketch of this gallant patriot soldier who now reposes on the western slope of the Ozark range in a sleep so profound that nothing but the Archangel's trump shall ever break it again, the painful suggestion that in his valuable services here, he was not sustained by his Government. He was constantly compelled to do harder duty, and more of it than fair. His last battle was fought against most fearful odds. Left to grapple with more than twice the number of his own force, he did not fail to do a soldier's duty. His own life was, perhaps, necessary to the victory which has been won. And he offered up that life without a murmur upon the altar of his country.

REINFORCEMENTS FOR SIGEL.—Our dispatches do not mention the movement of troops for the reinforcement of Sigel. Letters from St. Louis do. The St. Louis correspondent of the San Francisco Bulletin, under date of Aug. 27, writes:—

"News of the battle no sooner reached headquarters here than Fremont began to hurry off troops to Rolla, and 7,000 men were sent out by the southwest branch in the short space of 36 hours. They were all Illinois troops. The Secretary of War directed by telegraph, the Governors of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and other Northwestern States, to hold all their troops and munitions of war in their respective States subject to Fremont's order. The General has availed himself of this call upon them liberally. Illinois and Iowa Regiments are coming in rapidly. An Indiana regiment arrived yesterday, and four more, including Col. Lewis Wallace's 11th, Zouaves, who distinguished themselves in Western Virginia, will be here in a few days. A Cavalry Regiment is expected to attend the [illegible] from each of the States of Iowa, Indiana and Illinois, and some companies have already reported themselves here as ready for duty. Russeau's Kentucky brigade, now about 3,000 strong, and in camp near Louisville, have likewise been ordered hither, and will be here during the coming week. The troops not needed immediately to reinforce exposed points in the State, will go into the permanent camp now being built near the Western limit of this city, and where hundreds of carpenters are now at work constructing barracks."

FIENDISH ATTEMPT.—The Vancouver (illegible) icle gives the following particulars of outrage upon Judge WYCHE, and his [illegible] at their residence at Vancouver. It [illegible] that the Judge has offered $200 [illegible] such information as will lead to the arrest and conviction and punishment of the guilty [illegible].

On the night of the 30th ult., at about [illegible] o'clock, a man presented himself at the [illegible] of Judge Wyche's residence, about one and a-half miles above the city, and knocked for admittance. Mr. Bancroft, a brother-in-law of Judge Wyche, who occupied a front room, rose from his bed, and went to the door. As a precautionary measure, he looked through the window, and saw a large, robust man, with full whiskers, and clothed, as he was in a soldier's uniform: the man had also a weapon of some kind under his arm, which as it appeared, he was anxious to hide. Alarmed by the profane ejaculations of the ruffian, and hesitating to open the door, he called the Judge, who slept upstairs with his youngest child, and who arose immediately to learn the cause of the singular visit. While about descending the stairs, a shot was fired through the curtained parlor window at the west end of the house, the ball passing diagonally, breaking a fruit-dish on the table, passing thence into the hall, and after having spent its main force, caused a slight wound in the Judge's left ankle. Alarmed beyond measure at these demonstrations, Mrs. [illegible] and her eldest daughter were about coming down stairs; and while the Judge was searching for his gun, which was standing on the back porch, another shot was fired through the front window, the ball passing about [illegible] feet high through the entire length of the house, and lodging in the garden-gate on the opposite side. Judge Wyche and Mr. Bancroft remained up all night, but no further attempts were made. The balls were of the Minnie pattern, but in the opinion of military men they were not fired from a solder's musket or other rifled weapon. Neither is it believed that the guilty parties were soldiers, as all the soldiers of both companies were present during the roll call, which took place at tattoo, almost simultaneously with the perpetration of the outrage. All conjectures as to the motive of the wretches seem to be in vain. The Judge is beloved and respected by all who know him, and no plunder could be reasonably expected. The deliberation and coolness of the villains would lead us to think, that they were not intoxicated, and we are slow to believe, any human being so utterly debased, as to be led by such prejudices to the perpetration of such an act.

TO MERCHANTS AND ADVERTISERS

Merchants and advertisers generally are invited to call and examine the circulation of THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN. The space allotted to advertising is limited to six columns, so that no advertisement will be lost in the paper.

RECORDER'S COURT.—Henry Engle was fined $25 and costs, for selling liquor in less quantity than a quart, without license.

In the same Court, I A Dayen was fined $5 for drunken and disorderly conduct.

THROWN OUT OF COURT.—Justice Burr was compelled, yesterday, to throw a suitor out of his Court which was pending between two rival parties of Chinamen. The Judge was unable to understand the flowery language of the witnesses. In answer to the question of their understanding the nature of an oath they replied that their punishment, for false swearing, would be, to eat China fish and drink strong brandy. Rather severe.

RUN ASHORE.—The steamer Columbia, in steaming down the river yesterday morning, owing to the heavy fog prevailing at the time, ran aground but was soon got off again.

SUNK AND RAISED AGAIN.—Mr Knott's steam ferry boat sunk at the foot of Stark street night before last, but was successfully raised again yesterday by means of the pile driver.

ELECTED.—Mr A B Steward was elected second assistant Foreman of Multnomah Fire Company, No. 2, on Thursday evening last, to fill a vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr. T. B Trevitt.

The Carrie Ladd brought down last night $50,000 in gold dust, by Express. A large amount also came down in private hands.

Senator Nesmith arrived in our city last evening on the stage.

J W Simonton writes from New York under date of August 13 that Col Baker will not accept the commission of Brigadier General, but will serve as a Colonel of volunteers. So, gentlemen aspirants for the Senate, you can hang your harps on the willows.

"WELL DONE, GOOD AND FAITHFUL."—The following is an extract from a letter dated Salem, Sept. 4th:—

Senator Nesmith arrived here yesterday in pursuance to previous arrangements the citizens turned out and gave him a public reception. Although greatly fatigued by his trip in the stage from California, and much fatigued from the want of sleep, his response to the welcome speech was appropriately concise, and touched upon the leading topics of the day. He justified his course in voting to place men and money at the disposal of the President to enable him to put down rebellion and maintain our Government. In order to effect these desirable ends he was willing to use the resources of the nation to its greatest extent. His speech was well received by the people, and its sentiments enthusiastically applauded.

The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR. J. J. CRAYKAY is already secured in a position which places it as well as its proprietor far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science, and they occupy with others, an equally lofty position in the profession. Herod is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical sages of his age in Europe, and Dr Czapkay has but to equal him in this country, as a proof of which, the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma, and the honorary academic degree. Selecting this as his field of operation although qualified as a graduate of the University of Leith and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for more extended labors, Dr J J Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become a great an expert, that he is now regarded as the LEADER in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to the readers in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company San Francisco. We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures, in another column of this paper. Persons not wishing to lose time in corresponding please enclose $10 in their letters, and they will get immediate attention to their cases. Address, J. J. CZAPKAY, M. It matters not from what cause disease originated however long standing, or the case however severe or common it may be, permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment after the disease has baffled the skill of quacks and resisted all their means of cure. The most modern prescribed remedies given, without odor entirely free from poisons, containing no alcohol, and far from mercury or bark. During fifteen years' practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have received from the hands of distinguished physicians, who, in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases had been given up to die by the faculty, sufficient warrants me in promising to the afflicted that by these remedies under my care a speedy and perfect cure. Private diseases are dreaded and feared less than they are the first cause of consumption, insanity and many diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. A permanent cure in such only ever effected—no matter of cases, all going to the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease but ruin the constitution, thereby rendering what would otherwise be a simple case, in after life a confirmed consumption, insanity or death. Many have been the victims to this fatal practice. Many a life could have been saved had they but applied in time. Many a family with health and happiness around them, have been made miserable by the indiscretion of one member. Many a young man, through bashfulness, neglects to consult a physician in the early stages of his disease, which leads to organic weakness, the disease is entailed upon his children who are born with feeble constitutions and the current of life corrupted, a variety which betrays itself in scrofula, ulcerous eruptions, or other affections of the skin, throat and limbs, or it may suffer into a rapid consumption and die. Such are the first causes of many deaths which are ascribed to other diseases, the disease is entailed upon the children who are born with feeble constitutions and the current of life corrupted, a variety which betrays itself in scrofula, ulcerous eruptions, or other affections of the skin, throat and limbs, or it may suffer into a rapid consumption and die. Such are the first causes of many deaths which are ascribed to other diseases, and consigns them to an early grave.

Scrofula is an other formidable enemy to health for it lurks in the blood undermining the whole human system—drawing up the sap of life, and like a worm at the root of a tree, destroys the vitality of the tree, so does scrofula destroy the vitality of the human system—drawing up the life blood of its victims through a long years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, by which many have the right of life cut off from them. It destroys the natural development of the system, by which many have a puny, sickly constitution and are unfitted for business and society. I was the sufferer myself, wrecked in body and mind, and was the means of being restored to health and happiness and strength and manliness. Which is more than I ever enjoyed before. With but one sentence I will close this part of the subject, and that is, that any person who has been unfortunate enough to have contracted any of the above diseases, my self-fidence can be restored to perfect health.

Irregularities and diseases of females and males treated with perfect success, effected by fifteen years practice and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures—Medicines with full directions may be sent by mail to any part of the United States and Western Territory by patients communicating their case by letter, and enclosing a fee of $5 for which sum they will be promptly attended to.

All business communications strictly confidential All letters to be addressed to DR L J CZAPKAY Medical Institute Sacramento street below Montgomery, Opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Company's office, San Francisco.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief.

We have published the certificates of three of the officers of the Hungarian Revolutionary Army, who having received their former health and impelled by gratitude, have published their cases and remedial agent, and their statements authenticated by a Notary Public. This appeared to us perfectly right and their publicity, and we recommend their perusal to the attention of all afflicted.

Certificate—The undersigned, desirous of [illegible] who may be unfortunate enough to be afflicted as we have been, with [illegible] of their misfortune, but it is at the same time his duty to thus publicly express his gratitude to Dr L J Czapkay for the perfect restoration to health which he has effected in our case. After having been given up by the most skillful physicians of the old world, as incurable, and after having tried almost every medicine which was recommended to us, without receiving any benefit, we finally resolved to place ourselves under the treatment of Dr Czapkay, whose reputation as a physician and gentleman was well known to us. We did so, and as a last resort, and with little hope of success, but what was our astonishment and delight, when after having undergone the first course of his treatment for a few weeks, we found a perceptible change for the better in our health. We continued the treatment, and after having undergone the second course of his medicines, which we took according to his directions, without the slightest deviation, we found ourselves perfectly restored to health, and entirely free from the effects of those terrible diseases, which had undermined our constitutions, and rendered our lives a burden to us. We therefore take pleasure in recommending Dr Czapkay to all those afflicted with any of the diseases mentioned in his advertisement, feeling confident that any one placing confidence in his skill, will not be disappointed in receiving a perfect cure.

DR L J CZAPKAY San Francisco—Sir, I consulted you some time ago, and do not think I have ever felt so well in my life as I do at present. I have not had a day's sickness with me since I consulted you, and I think you would be able to do anything with me that you might be able to do. I remember the first day I saw you, and how you looked at me, and how I was then. I was in great excitement, and was very much surprised at your manner. You told me you knew what I expected, and you gave me satisfaction at once. I received a complete recovery from my symptoms, and the removal of those sores and blotches on my skin, and the fears from my throat, and the [illegible] of those emissions, which you said were the cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you what my greatest joy or my surprise for except not a day of my strength. I feel as well as any man can feel.
